Yours for an Answer---

Did you ever try to suggest a Caption for a Newspaper Column, or a Subject for a Newspaper story? Sometimes there is as much cleverness shown in the selection of the title for a picture as there is in grouping the figures. It is the title that awakens human interest in the picture.

There is a wonderfully beautiful picture in our show window this week, but it lacks the proper title—will you give us one?

To the person offering us the best answer, we will award the beautiful Globe-Wernicke Bookcase shown in our window.

You need not be a customer of the store or make a purchase here to get a ballot, as this contest is open to all.

Simply call at the store and we will supply you with a ballot on which your answer is to be written.

The contest closes December 14 and all answers must be in the hands of the Answer Editor not later than that date.

The prize winner will be announced a week later.

Another Thanksgiving Day Has Passed We Trust It Has Been a Pleasant One for All

And now our thoughts turn toward the task of Christmas shopping, selecting the gifts or some little remembrance of Christmas greeting. Be it large or small it reminds us of the many friends and loved ones to be remembered at this time.

Christmas Post Cards, Booklets, Seals and Inclosure Cards

In our selection this year our aim has been to offer to the public something different and novel from other lines shown. Our ambition was to offer the best that money could buy, quality the best at lowest prices. We believe we have succeeded in obtaining these qualities in selecting the A. M. Davis and "Gibson" Artlines exclusively. They comprise original ideas of the very latest designs and mottoes. We can sell as low as others and can frankly say that we offer a better quality of cards. Look our display over and see if we are not correct.
